

LUBRICATOR

Any pneumatic machine without built in lubrications needs a separate lubricator to ensure that all moving parts are kept continuously coated with a film of oil. Our lubricators use the ejector principle, ensuring effective lubrication of all compressed air machines.

